College of Arts & Letters

Summer 2018 Study Abroad:
Salvador & Rio de Janeiro, Brazil

“Inequality & Activism in Brazil”

ANTH 442/SOC 352/GENS 450 (3 units)
Faculty leader: Dr. Erika Robb Larkins
Dates: Mid-Late May, 2018 (2.5 weeks)
Price: TBD
Application deadline: March 15, 2018
Scholarships: $1000 Brazil Program Scholarship & Associated Students Study Abroad Scholarship

Learning will take place both inside and outside the classroom as we examine the different forms of inequality in Brazil, learning theoretical approaches to social and economic disparity, meeting with local activists at grassroots NGOs, and exploring what might be done to alleviate poverty and other forms of social injustice worldwide.

Students will live in both the cities of Salvador and Rio de Janeiro, where they will have the chance to tour multiple museums and historic sites, visit tropical beaches, try regional cuisine and explore artisan markets.

Learn More:
To learn more, visit: calabroad.sdsu.edu.
Apply through Aztecs Abroad and search “Brazil”.
For course questions, email: erika.larkins@sdsu.edu.