

“The Politics of Citizenship and Science— Sickle Cell Disease in Brazil”

By
Professor Melissa Creary
University of Michigan, School of Public Health

Public Lecture:
October 11, 2017
5:00-6:40 PM, Physics 244

“Masterclass” for Students:
“What Happens if a Disease Gets "Raced"?:
Politics, Race and Sickle Cell Disease in Brazil”
2:00-3:00 PM, AL 566

Co-sponsored by the SDSU Department of History, The Master of Arts in Liberal Arts and Sciences (MALAS) and the J. Keith Behner and Catherine M. Stiefel Program on Brazil.

