

Race and Representation: An Analysis of Brazil

Andrew Janusz will discuss the significance of race in Brazilian politics and the institutional and cultural impediments to Afro-Brazilian political representation.

Monday, March 6, 2017
2pm – 3pm
SDSU - Life Sciences South 248

Andrew Janusz is a Political Science Ph.D. Student at UCSD who studies Brazilian race politics. His research focuses principally on why Afro-Brazilians are rarely elected to political office.

