

Race, Racism and Resistance in Latin America Lecture Series

Afro-Brazilians Struggle for Citizenship

November 18, 2020 at 4:30pm PST

Abner Francisco Sotenos is a PhD student in Latin American History at the University of California, San Diego. Sotenos' research examines Afro-Brazilian political activism in Cold War-era Brazil and state surveillance apparatuses during the same period.

Monique Paula is a graduate student in Media and Everyday Life at the Universidade Federal Fluminense in Niterói, Brazil. Paula's research analyzes political trajectories of Black congresswomen in Brazil through social media visibility and their role in the political arena.

Watufani Poe is a PhD candidate in Africana Studies at Brown University. Poe's research focuses on Black LGBTQQA+ activism in the United States and Brazil to understand Black queer and trans social and political activism in both countries.

Join us: <https://SDSU.zoom.us/j/95127438729>